b. BRESLAU: Previous [REDACTED] indicated only that the kasernes in the BRESLAU city sectors of ROSENTHAL, KARLOWITZ and COSMIL were occupied by Soviet troops. Since former German kasernes are also located in the other city sectors mentioned in the [REDACTED] it is considered possible that these kasernes may also be occupied by Soviet troops. In addition to troop units, several repair shops and supply depots are located in BRESLAU (repeatedly confirmed by the interrogation of returning PWs).

c. Lower Silesia: [REDACTED], two mechanized divisions and two motorized rifle divisions have been assumed to be stationed in the BRESLAU-FRANKENSTEIN-SAGAN area. These divisions were apparently still located there in September 1948. The estimate of forty thousand troops located in Lower Silesia appears credible.
